Praying Together for Constructive Conflict in Jerusalem

SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 19TH, 16:45-20:00

To be held at the: Tantur Ecumenical Institute

Located at the intersection of Hebron Street and HaRosmarin Street

Join us for an evening of prayer, conversation and fellowship as we discuss Constructive Conflict in the light of the different Abrahamic traditions

Join us for an evening of prayer, study and fellowship as we explore the values of 'constructive conflict', 'adeb el ikhtilaf' (ethics of disagreement), and 'machloket leshem shamayim' (disagreement for the sake of Heaven) as described in the different Abrahamic Traditions.

This special event is being held as part of the Dibur Hadash: Week of Constructive Conflict taking place throughout the country and the world between February 19th – 25th. All are invited regardless of their faith. For more information, and to RSVP, please see our website:
